Health warning signs legislation – 2019 changes

If you display an information sign (“Tobacco products sold here” or “Tobacco products and smoking implements sold here”), a price sign or price board (price board) or price tickets, you must also display a health warning sign.

One of the following health warning signs must be located adjacent to the information sign, price board or price tickets that accompany a tobacco sales unit or tobacco vending machine. The health warning sign must be A4 (297 mm x 210 mm) in size, or A5 (210 mm x 148 mm) in the case of a tobacco vending machine that is too small to display an A4-sized health warning sign.

The health warning sign shown below must be located adjacent to the information sign, price board or price tickets that accompany a cigar cabinet or humidified room. The health warning sign must be A4 (297 mm x 210 mm) in size, or A7 (105 mm x 74 mm) in the case of a cigar cabinet that is designed to be portable and has a volume not exceeding 50 cm³.

Disclaimer: This publication is provided to the reader by the Department of Health (the “Department”) on the basis that while every reasonable effort has been made to ensure the accuracy of the publication, no guarantee can be given that the publication is free from error or omission. The information contained in this publication is intended as a guide only and is not a comprehensive analysis of the relevant legislation.

The Department, the Minister for Health, the State of Western Australia, and their employees and agents expressly disclaim liability for any act or omission occurring in reliance on the information in this publication and for any consequences of such act or omission.

Produced by Tobacco Policy © Department of Health 2019

Copyright to this material is vested in the State of Western Australia unless otherwise indicated. Apart from any fair dealing for the purposes of private study, research, criticism or review, as permitted under the provisions of the Copyright Act 1968, no part may be reproduced or re-used for any purposes whatsoever without written permission of the State of Western Australia.