Mentee Development Plan

What kind of nurse or midwife do I want to be: now, in one year, in two years or five years?

Think of the changes in healthcare and the health services that impact on your role and try to envisage those clinical skills, professionalism and leadership skills which you need to develop to the level that you desire? In identifying and reflecting on your aspirations, try to strike a balance between setting yourself challenging goals and at the same time remaining realistic.

Where would you like to be in one year?
(This may be Position/Role, Skills, Knowledge, Behaviours)

_______________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________

Where would you like to be in three years?
(This may be Position/Role, Skills, Knowledge, Behaviours)

_______________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________

What are the areas for development?

_______________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________

What resources do you need to complete these objectives?

_______________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________

© Nursing and Midwifery Office, WA Department of Health 2017